Forecast for Saturday 29 May 2021

Weather: Some patchy low cloud, mist and drizzle overnight, particularly over Skye and around the Ben Wyvis area. Any patchy light rain and drizzle around the west coast will soon die out in the morning with any low cloud lifting and breaking during the morning. Otherwise variable amounts of cloud and the odd shower through the day, but many ranges dry.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: 40% overnight and early morning, becoming 80% by the afternoon.

Visibility: Moderate or poor at first in any mist and drizzle, occasionally very poor over the summits with extensive or occasional cloud, base 300 to 600m. Becoming mostly very good by the afternoon with cloud lifting near or above the summits, breaking at times. Briefly lowering to 750 metres in any showers this afternoon.
